SUMMARY OF THE CASE

The South Carolina State Board of Education (State Board) considered this matter on July 21, 2004. On November 26, 2003 the State Department of Education (Department) sent Ms. Gayla Keesee a notice of her right to a due process hearing regarding the possible suspension of her South Carolina educator certificate (certificate) by certified mail, return receipt requested delivery restricted to addressee and regular mail. The Department has no proof that Ms. Keesee received the initial notice. The Department mailed another notice on June 8, 2004 to a new address by certified mail, return receipt requested delivery restricted to addressee. Ms. Keesee received this notice as evidenced by a signed postal receipt. She did not request a hearing and is now in default. After considering the evidence presented by the Department, the State Board voted to suspend Ms. Keesee's certificate until she repays her outstanding loan with the State of South Carolina obtained through the Center for Teacher Education, Recruitment, Retention and Advancement (CERRA).

FINDINGS OF FACT

Ms. Keesee holds a valid certificate, with over four years of teaching experience. She was under contract with the Aiken County School District (District) for the 2003-2004 school year. On August 24, 2000, Ms. Keesee signed a promissory note with the State of South Carolina to obtain a loan of $2300 to pay for the costs of applying for certification from the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS). One of the terms of that agreement was that Ms. Keesee agreed to pay a $300 non-refundable application fee if she withdrew from the application process prior to the submission of the required portfolio to NBPTS. Ms. Keesee did withdraw prior to that date and has not repaid the $300. CERRA and the State Department of Education sent several letters notifying Ms. Keesee of her failure to comply with the terms of the loan agreement.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The State Board may suspend the certificate of any person for unprofessional conduct. S.C. Code Ann. § 59-25-160 (2004); 24 S.C. Code Regs. 43-58 (1992). The State Board finds that there is substantial evidence supporting its decision to suspend Ms. Keesee's certificate # 194823 from the date of this Order until she has satisfied her financial obligation in the amount of $300 to the State of South Carolina as established in the loan agreement referenced above. At the end of the suspension period if Ms. Keesee wants her certificate reinstated, she may make a written request for reinstatement to the Office of Teacher Certification of the Department.
